

HigherEdJobs.com, one of higher education's leading recruitment services, now offers an integrated solution to manage your job postings. If your institution uses one of our approved partners, you can integrate your postings with our website. You can post, edit and delete your positions on HigherEdJobs.com directly through your current posting system.

As an added benefit, the trained staff at HigherEdJobs.com will take care of selecting the proper category for each of your job postings, as well as reviewing your position for formatting or other issues. Not only do you save the time of re-entering your job postings, but the integration will ensure data integrity and consistent branding across all your postings.

"The integration with HigherEdJobs was amazingly fast and easy. HigherEdJobs was very accommodating to our recommended changes and handled them all very quickly. This integration is such a time saver."

Melissa Cahill, Howard Community College

Approved Integration Partners

HigherEdJobs.com currently offers job posting integration with the following partners, and we are actively working on similar partnerships with other organizations.

Starting the Integration

Integrating your system is easier than you may think. The first step is deciding which positions you want to integrate. Typically, all job postings are included, but you can also choose by employment class or on a case by case basis. Next, you'll need to determine which fields on your current posting system you wish to appear on HigherEdJobs.com. The more fields you choose, the better the search criteria candidates can use to find your institution's postings.

Pricing

HigherEdJobs.com charges an annual integration fee of $495 (in addition to regular posting costs) to create the initial integration and offset continued development and maintenance costs associated with integrating. This does not include any additional fees which may be charged by the integration partner.
